TOUR OF COUNTRY THURSDAY WILL BE BIG POLITICAL DEMONSTRATION

Plans Are Announced of Outside Automobile Delegations Which Will Join Along Route.

DRUM CORPS AND GLEE CLUBS

Tour Will Close With Torch Light
Procession and Meeting at Coliseum Thursday Night.

LYNCH FACTORY MEETINGS

He Will Speak During Noon Hour at Four Different Places Wednesday and Friday.

Today, the beginning of the last week of the campaign, Republican campaign managers in Rush county were preparing for the final appeals to the voters. The big automobile torch light procession at night, will cap the climax Thursday. This is expected, the weather permitting, to be far the biggest political demonstration ever held in Rush county.

The special committee in charge of the tour and the meeting at night will hold a meeting tonight to make final arrangements for the event. If the weather is bad, the tour will not be attempted.

Speaking dates for P. J. Lynch, Republican nominee for congress in this district, in addition to Thursday's meetings, were announced today for Thursday and Friday. They include factory meetings here in Rushville.

An organization meeting of all Republicans of the county who desire to attend will be held at Republican headquarters tonight to boost the automobile tour and torch light procession and to talk over the plans for the final week of the campaign.

Greensburg will send several automobile loads of Republicans to Milroy for the opening meeting of the automobile tour next Thursday morning. They will accompany the speakers on either the eastern or western tour of the county. A party of autoists from Shelbyville will meet the tourists on the western side of the county at Manilla and proceed with them on the route to Carthage.

At Carthage where the eastern and western divisions of the tour will meet at two o'clock Thursday afternoon for a meeting, the crowd will be augmented by a drum corps from Greenfield, several automobiles filled with Republicans from the same place, an automobile party from Knightstown, Lynch's glee club of twenty-five members from Newcastle, a drum corps from the same place, and the whole party, after a meeting at Carthage at two-thirty o'clock, will come here in automobiles to prepare for the torch light procession and meeting at the Coliseum at night.

There will be bands and drum corps here for the night meeting and on each one of the tours of the county there will be a drum corps. James E. Watson of this city, P. J. Lynch of Newcastle and John Wesley Hill of New York, will be the speakers on the tour of the county and at the night meeting here. It is not announced how the speakers will be divided, but it seems certain that Candidate Lynch will tour the western side of the county because he has spoken in several towns in the eastern part of the county.

A factory meeting will be held at

PRESS FIGHT ON EXTREME RIGHT

French Are Holding Germans All
Along New Line of Battle, Paris
Statement Says.

ENEMY FAILS IN ONE THING

Invaders do not Follow up Advantage When They Cross Yser—Believed Due to Losses.

(By United Press.)

Paris, Oct. 26.—The Germans are being held all along the new line of battle in the north while the French are pressing the fighting on the extreme right in an effort to force a change in the German plans. This was the interpretation placed today on the announcement that severe fighting has taken place in both the Woevre and Argonne regions. The French have taken advantage of this and as a result it is believed they are now maintaining so stern an offensive on their right that the pressure on their extreme left must shortly be relieved by forcing the Germans to send some of their forces from the Belgian front back around to the Woevre region.

The advances of the Germans across the Yser has not been followed with any further offensive moves. This is believed due to their terrific losses in gaining their success at this point. All reports from the front agree that the Germans sacrificed thousands of men in this movement and all along the front the ground is reported covered with dead and wounded Germans.

The fleet continues its operations along the coast from Newport to Ostend the heavy naval guns constantly raking the German positions which have now been withdrawn inland from two to five miles.

BREAK IN MAIN.

A break in a gas main of the Peoples Natural Gas company caused a shortage of gas this morning. The gas was shut off this afternoon and the repair made. The gas was off from twelve o'clock until about two o'clock.

FOR ASSAULT AND BATTERY.

Frank Nicholson was arraigned before Mayor Bebout this morning on an assault and battery charge filed by Delbert Newman. The case was continued in order that Nicholson's sister could testify. Nicholson alleged that Newman had insulted his sister and he admitted striking him.

FAIL TO LOCATE WOMAN

Employees of E. R. Casady Store
Trace Down Clew With no Result.

Paul T. Allen and other employees of the E. R. Casady store returned late Saturday evening from Greensburg and Newpoint without locating the woman, who was supposed to have passed a check for $10 at the store last Thursday. The local party got trace of the woman they were after in Greensburg and it was thought she had gone to Newpoint. A visit at Newpoint resulted in nothing more than the fact that she had been there. The authorities in Greensburg will keep a close watch for the woman and an arrest is expected soon. She is known to the Greensburg police.

COLORADO MAN IS STILL HELD IN JAIL

Satterfield Will Not be Released For Few Days Until Cutting is Investigated Further.

TRIAL DIDN'T PROVE GUILT

Steve Satterfield, colored, who was tried Saturday before Mayor Bebout on the charge of cutting Gale Smiley, is still in jail and will likely be held a few days. The case was taken under advisement by Mayor Bebout. It is understood that the police are working on several clews that may give more evidence on the fight that occurred in the colored show, one of the attractions at the horse show and fall festival last week. Prosecutor Smith has heard several rumors and asked Mayor Bebout to hold the colored man in jail until he could run them all down. Unless further evidence is brought out against Satterfield he is likely to be freed as the trial did not show him to be guilty, according to the officials.

DIFFERENT VIEW OF CRIMINALS

Rev. A. D. Batchelor Traces History of Attitude of Public Toward the Law Violators.

PRISON DAY IS OBSERVED

Rev. C. M. Yocum Says Fellowship
Consists of Essential Elements
Besides Companionship.

"Prison Day" was observed at the St. Paul M. E. church last night when the Rev. A. D. Batchelor preached a special subject in keeping with the day. He traced the change in the attitude of the public toward criminals, pointing out that now society tries to reform criminals instead of attempting to avenge his act against society.

The Rev. C. M. Yocum at the Main Street Christian church spoke of "Fellowship," declaring that there were other essential elements in fellowship other than the popular belief that fellowship simply means companionship. Their sermons follow in part:

Main Street Christian

At the Main Street Christian church yesterday morning the Rev. C. M. Yocum preached on the subject "Fellowship," using as a text Acts, 2:42. He said in part:

We often think of fellowship as meaning the friendship of kindred spirits, companionship. The fellowship of the church, we think, is the warm congenial association of the church members after the service and at social gatherings and we say that a church lacks in fellowship when it is cold and formal. Well we are right so far as we go. Fellowship consists of companionship but there are other essential elements.

The word from which our English word fellowship is translated means primarily to have part in, or partnership. Christ formed a circle of divine commonwealth welded together by loyalty to himself and pre-ved by a spirit of mutual helpfulness and service. The philosophers had dreamed of the brotherhood of men but it remained for the disciples and their master to realize it. The disciples had all things in common. They sold their possessions and put the proceeds into a common treasury. Anania and Saphira violated the mutual trust by trying to share its rewards without bearing the full share of the burdens and expenses.

The fellowship of the apostles was, therefore, that friendship of kindred spirits which found its expression in mutual service in the support and work of the church and in the mutual sharing of its blessings.

A community is not practical today, but the fellowship of the apostles is not only practical but essential to the welfare of the church and consists in having part in the service and rewards of the church.

Everyone should support the church with his means to the best of his ability and he who does not refuses to meet a just obligation. The sin of Anania was not simply lying to Peter. The lie was told to cover up the real sin. The real sin consisted in trying to share the honors and blessings of the community without bearing their full share of the obligations.

To be in full fellowship of the church we must bear our share of the work of the church. We should be found in some organization of the church and be busy in its activities.

Then too, if we are in full fellow-

GOOD ONE ON DAN KINNEY

Handed Jim Tarplee's Card to Man Whose Vote he Asked For.

They are telling a good one on Dan Kinney, Bull Moose candidate for trustee, at Oneal Brothers. This morning Mr. Kinney was out doing a little campaigning and dropped into Oneal Brothers. He handed Will Spivey a card, asking for his support. This is the way they all do it but the card proved to be one of Jim Tarplee's. Tarplee is the Democratic candidate for county assessor. Spivey says he knew the Bull Moosers and Democrats were closely related in Rushville township, where the Democrats have no ticket, but it is the first time one has come out openly for the other side.

MOTORCYCLIST IS HIT BY AUTOMOBILE

Harry Bymaster of Richmond Says he Will File Charge When he Learns Driver's Name.

HIS FOOT SEVERELY HURT

Harry Bymaster of Richmond, was injured yesterday afternoon and the motorcycle he was riding was damaged when he was hit by an automobile, two miles north of the city. Bymaster alleges that the auto crowded him off the road and refused to give him half of the highway. His foot was severely hurt. The auto did not even stop to see if he was hurt. The number of the machine was obtained and he will write to the secretary of state to find the name of the owner. He told the police that he would file charges as soon as he learned the name of the driver of the machine. Bymaster was here attending the football game and was on his way home at the time of the accident. Fresh gravel on the road, it is stated, caused the auto driver to keep all the road and Bymaster was hit.

LAST WEEK FOR TAX PAYING HERE

Taxes Yet to be Paid at Fall Installment Amount to $136,541.87,
County Treasurer Says.

OFFICE OPEN AT NIGHT NOW

Next Monday, the day before election, will be the last day for paying the fall installment of taxes and the semi-annual rush is on at the county treasurer's office. County Treasurer McBride announced today that the office would be open at night until the close of the fall period for paying so as to accommodate those who cannot conveniently come to the office during the day. The office will be closed every afternoon at four o'clock so the books may be closed for the day and then the doors will be opened again at seven-fifteen o'clock.

From figures prepared by the county treasurer, it is gleaned that taxes at the rate of more than $20,000 a day will have to be collected between now and next Monday night. In round numbers, the taxes to be collected during the fall period amount to $250 and up to Saturday only $113,459.13 had been paid, leaving a balance unpaid of $136,541.87.

CONFESSES HE USED AN ALIAS

Young Man Who Stole James Spill-man's Automobile, Admits His Name is Russel Borden.

LIVES IN HANCOCK COUNTY

Has Police Record, Having Been Sent to Plainfield While Living in Shelbyville.

After being put through the "third degree" by the police and prosecutor, the boy who stole the automobile owned by James Spillman of Milroy, and who was caught at Greenfield, admitted this afternoon that his name was Russel Borden, of near Reedville, Hancock county. The boy stuck to his original story that his name was Harold Williams of Nashville, Tenn., until arraigned before Mayor Bebout this afternoon, and all manner of questioning up until this time failed to shake his story, although the police were convinced that he was not telling the truth.

When confronted this afternoon with his own record, the boy owned up and told the officers that his name was Russell Borden and that he was the son of Nick Borden, an old soldier living near Reedville. The Borden boy formerly lived in Shelbyville and was sentenced to Plainfield from that city.

When arraigned this afternoon he waived preliminary hearing and was bound over to the grand jury. This was about all that could be done as the mayor has no power to sentence him on a grand larceny charge. The prosecutor promised the boy that the case would be taken up by the grand jury on Thursday after the election. Borden promised the officers that he would write to his father and see if he would not help him. Borden gave as his reason for using an assumed name that he did not want his people to find out that he was in trouble. He took the first name that came to his mind, that of Harold Williams and gave Nashville as his home.

The police and Mr. Spillman were convinced that he had not told the truth. He did not speak with a southern brogue common to all people coming from that section and refused to write to any of his friends there. He said he had been living with his brother-in-law; that they did not get along very well; that his sister was ill and he did not want them to find out.

When questioned this morning Borden broke down and cried but would not tell his real name until several hours later. Frank Farley of West First street, formerly of Shelbyville, recognized the boy as Borden this morning at the jail. He said he had seen him here Friday afternoon and that he told him he had driven over from near Greenfield in his father's auto and that he was waiting for it to be repaired before returning home. A few hours afterward Farley heard of the robbery and this morning decided to walk by the jail and see the prisoner. It was then that he recognized Borden.

Borden at first refused to recognize him, stating that Farley surely had the wrong man. Continued questioning, however, brought out the story. Borden stated that he was in the colored show where Gale Smiley was cut between two and three o'clock that afternoon, with Satterfield, the colored piano player, who is charged with the crime. He states that he knows nothing of the cutting.

If a Merchant Offers a Cut Price

on any article of merchandise he has to sell. One of two things has happened—He has either lost confidence in his own judgment and is afraid his ware will not sell at the price he placed on it, or he is playing you, Mr. Buyer, for an easy mark and is simply using cut price advertising for bait and if you are a fish and like the bait, he is going to land you. If a merchant puts an honest profit on what he has to sell when he first offers it for sale, it will remove all temptations to cut prices. Wouldn't you rather buy what you need from the man that has one price and especially when that price is lower than the cut prices of his competitors, and you don't have to wait until a sale day to get what you want. If you want to trade where you pay the same price every day in the year and where you don't pay any more any time than the other fellow, we want to sell you your buggies. And as to the styles, we have all the new ones in storm buggies there are on any market, but you know where the styles all originate. Remember, we sold Colonial styles two years ago. We have found better things now. Take a look—then you will know.

BEVERIDGE PROPHECIES

IN CAMPAIGN OF 1912

For the third time in four years Albert Jeremiah is prophesying. To date no one ever heard of any of his predictions coming true. That don't faze him, however.

In view of the extravagant claims of the Indianapolis Star and the bold prophecies that are being made from day to day by Mr. Beveridge, the files of the Star of October, 1912, are quite interesting.

On Oct. 27, 1912, headlines of the Indianapolis Star were as follows: "Progressive Victory in Indiana Practically Assured."

"Both Old Parties Lose."

"Chairman Lee Confident That Both Beveridge and Roosevelt Will Carry the State."

"Conditions as Found Justify the Progressive State Chairman in Expecting to Carry Indiana for Both Beveridge and Roosevelt."

"Reports Indicate That Progressive Congressmen Will Be Elected in Seven, Possibly Nine, Congressional Districts."

"The Election of the Progressive State Ticket Is Now Practically Assured."

On Oct. 29, 1912, headlines of the Indianapolis Star were as follows: "Mighty Tide Carries Beveridge on Crest."

"Standpat Papers Declare Old Parties Concede Victory to Progressive Nominee for Governor."

Oct. 22, 1912, the following editorial statement was made:

"The Beveridge sweep of Indiana is one of the marvels of politics. In the candidacy of Beveridge the voters see an opportunity to get a keen, aggressive, rightminded advocate of practical reforms, and practicable measure of relief. This explains the Beveridge sweep which is carrying the Progressive party forward to victory."

On Oct. 30, 1912, headlines in the Indianapolis Star were as follows: "Count of Noses Signals Result."

"Everywhere Straw Ballots Indicate Election of Roosevelt and Beveridge."

"The Result of Polls Taken in Industrial Centers Has Been to Prove That Roosevelt Is to Be Elected and Beveridge Is to Sweep the State."

On Nov. 3, 1912, the Indianapolis Star reported a meeting of Senator Beveridge and Senator Clapp to a large crowd that gathered at the State house grounds. In this meeting Beveridge predicted his own election and the election of Theodore Roosevelt.

How much these headlines of two years ago are like the headlines of the Indianapolis Star, and Crawford Fairbanks's Terre Haute Star these October days. Only the excitable are influenced by such extravagant press statements. The betting in Indianapolis has been two to one or more all along, and is now, that Beveridge will run a poor third at the election on Nov. 3.

FACTS POLITICAL WITH FIGURES

INTERESTING AND CONCLUSIVE

Since the presidential election in November, 1912, much conflicting information has been disseminated regarding the political situation in Indiana and throughout the country. The best way to get the real truth is to study the results of the registrations, primaries and elections that have been held since that time. Cold, official figures tell the story better than words. There can be no way of going behind these figures.

Let the Official Figures Speak for Themselves — All the Way Across the Country

NEW YORK		PENNSYLVANIA		MAINE		OHIO		ILLINOIS		MINNESOTA
The reported result of the New York state primary, held Sept. 28, 1914, and a comparison with the 1912 vote of that state follows:		The official result of the 1914 primary in Pennsylvania and a comparison with the 1912 vote follows:		The official results of the Maine election, held Sept. 14, 1914, and a comparison with the presidential vote of 1912 follow:		The official results of the Ohio state primary, held on Aug. 11, 1914, and a comparison with the vote in that state in 1912 follow:		The official result of the Illinois primary, held on Sept. 9, 1914, compared with the 1912 vote in that state follows:		The official results of the 1914 Minnesota primary together with the vote of 1912 follow:

			21 per cent		120.3 per cent						202 per cent
			52 per cent		65 per cent						58 per cent
			83 per cent								97 per cent
The Progressives of New York, Roosevelt's home state, had a warm contest for the gubernatorial nomination between Sulzer and Davenport, and in spite of this, the total vote fell off considerably compared with their 1912 vote.		Recently the Progressive nominee for Governor of Pennsylvania withdrew in favor of the Democratic nominee.		After California, Maine was the strongest Progressive state in the country in 1912. They carried seven out of sixteen counties.		The Ohio primary revealed the fact that the Progressive party has practically disappeared in that state. The primary vote was less than 4 per cent of the total Progressive vote in that state in 1912.		The Progressive vote in Cook County was but 7,391, less than one-twentieth of what it was in 1912. The returns show that this party has disappeared in a number of Illinois counties.		The Progressive vote was not large enough to get the ticket of that party on the official ballot for the November election.

At any election if you heard such returns from these seven states you would KNOW the result. If the above figures do not convince you, read still the following

CALIFORNIA	IOWA	MICHIGAN	NORTH DAKOTA	AND ALSO IN INDIANA

There is but one possible conclusion: THE VOTERS ARE DETERMINED TO RETURN THE REPUBLICAN PARTY TO POWER AND BRING TO THE NATION THE PROSPERITY TO WHICH WE ARE ENTITLED.

NOTHING CAN PREVENT IT

The Citizenship of Indiana is not different from that of other States, and in November this citizenship will speak in terms just as certain—and the Republican party will again give to Indiana the efficient, economical government we deserve

Indiana will again prove to the country that in time of any great national need she can be depended upon county says: "No great effort has been made and yet the arrests for illegal sale of liquor are alarmingly large, fights and cutting affairs seem to flourish and among a certain class the report seems to be believed that all is well until after election."

If such a condition as this exists, as it is alleged does, where does the blame lie? The prosecuting attorney is the man sworn to prosecute criminals to the full extent of the law. If there have been illegal sales of liquor, it is the duty of the prosecutor to "make a case of it" if there is one.

This same authority says that "fights and cutting affairs seem to flourish." There was a cutting scrape last Friday. When it happened the prosecuting attorney was out of the city. It does not appear that there will be any convictions because the state apparently has no case and the prosecuting witness was unable to identify his assailant among those detained.

It is true murder was committed here about a month ago and the shooting is as much veiled in mystery as ever. But do the Democratic politicians expect to "play politics" on such matters as these and still make the people believe they are in earnest?

The thoughtful citizen may have cause to wonder what the grand jury was ever created for. This body is in sole charge of the prosecuting attorney to direct in whatever he chooses.

We have the testimony of the Democratic organ that "fights and cutting affairs seem to flourish" and that "among a certain class the report seems to be believed that all is well until after election."

The organ of Democracy in Rush

county says: "No great effort has been made and yet the arrests for illegal sale of liquor are alarmingly large, fights and cutting affairs seem to flourish and among a certain class the report seems to be believed that all is well until after election."

If such a condition as this exists, as it is alleged does, where does the blame lie? The prosecuting attorney is the man sworn to prosecute criminals to the full extent of the law. If there have been illegal sales of liquor, it is the duty of the prosecutor to "make a case of it" if there is one.

This same authority says that "fights and cutting affairs seem to flourish." There was a cutting scrape last Friday. When it happened the prosecuting attorney was out of the city. It does not appear that there will be any convictions because the state apparently has no case and the prosecuting witness was unable to identify his assailant among those detained.

It is true murder was committed here about a month ago and the shooting is as much veiled in mystery as ever. But do the Democratic politicians expect to "play politics" on such matters as these and still make the people believe they are in earnest?

We have the testimony of the Democratic organ that "fights and cutting affairs seem to flourish" and that "among a certain class the report seems to be believed that all is well until after election."

IN THE LIGHT OF THE EVIDENCE, WHAT WILL THE DEMOCRATIC COURT OFFICIALS HAVE TO SAY? THE GRAND JURY IS THE AVOWED AGENT OF THE LAW WITH WHICH THE

PROSECUTING ATTORNEY INVESTIGATES VIOLATORS OF THE LAW AND BRING THEM BEFORE THE BAR OF JUSTICE FOR TRIAL YET DURING THIS TERM OF COURT, WHICH OPENED MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 7, THE GRAND JURY HAS BEEN IN SESSION JUST TWO DAYS. MURDER HAS BEEN COMMITTED, THERE HAVE BEEN FIGHTS AND LAW VIOLATIONS—WE HAVE THE WORD OF THE DEMOCRATIC ORGAN FOR IT—BUT THE GRAND JURY HAS BEEN IN SESSION JUST TWO DAYS. THIS IS THE RECORD UPON WHICH THE PROSECUTING ATTORNEY SEEKS YOUR PREFERENCE.

FURTHERMORE THERE HAS NOT BEEN A CRIMINAL CASE TRIED IN THE CIRCUIT COURT THIS TERM. NEITHER HAS ANY BEEN SET DOWN. COURT WAS "DARK" ALL LAST WEEK. NOT A CASE WAS CALLED FOR TRIAL.

Then the Democratic newspaper, in the face of all this, tries to lay at the door of the poor public the blame for alleged law violators. It has come to a sad state of affairs when there must be a civic league or some such organization to conduct the affairs of the prosecutor's office and direct the action of the grand jury.

Since the bipartisan combination of the Democratic and Progressive politicians in Rushville and Ripley townships has been exposed, they are looking for campaign issues to offset the loss that is certain since their methods have been opened to public view. It now remains a question whether the voters of both parties in these two townships are willing to be led by a few men. We doubt if they are.

The suggestion which has been made that a public meeting be called to plan for the 1915 fall festival and horse show meets with general favor. The idea is an excellent one. If it is to be done at all, it should be done at once.

We are on the last week of the campaign now and let's get set for a good start.

Statements That May be Investigated.—Testimony of Rushville Citizens

When a Rushville citizen comes to the front, telling his friends and neighbors of his experience, you can rely on his sincerity. The statements of people residing in far away places do not command your confidence. Home endorsement is the kind that backs Doan's Kidney Pills. Such testimony is convincing. Investigation proves it true. Below is a statement of a Rushville resident. No stronger proof of merit can be had.

M. Conner, 1001 N. Harrison St., Rushville, Ind., says, "I had backache and pains through my loins and my kidneys were irregular in action. Hearing about Doan's Kidney Pills, I used them. They stopped the pains and regulated the kidney action."

ship we will share in the blessings and rewards of the church. These include a standing in the community which always comes with consistent church membership, an opportunity to be better by living in an atmosphere conducive to moral and spiritual health, and a host of things which come only through communion with the Lord. There is also the promise of the home eternal a rich inheritance of the Christian.

Are we in fellowship with the church? Are we in honest partnership with God? God has given us life, health, and ability to do and to be. Am I giving Him his just portion of the profits? You would not defraud your business partner; are you just as square and honest with your God. God help us to share honestly in the work and the burdens of the church that we might have a part in its blessings.

St. Paul's M. E.

Last night at the St. Paul's Methodist church the Rev. A. D. Bathelot preached a special sermon on prison reform, yesterday being appointed as "Prison Day" by the State Board of Charities. The text was, Ates, 27:42, "The soldiers' counsel was to kill the prisoners."

He said in part: "Paul's age knew of no humane treatment for the prisoner. He was harshly dealt with, scourged and killed. For many centuries society followed in the footsteps of the brutal Roman age. All its machinery was an organized effort to 'kill the prisoner'; to torture his body and to crush his soul. When imprisonment and capital punishment did not decrease crime some nations resorted to banishment. From 1619 to 1770, Great Britain transported his criminals to Virginia until they would be no longer received. Afterwards she sent them to Australia until 1850. But this plan did not diminish the number of criminals at home. All past methods of dealing with the prisoners were based upon a false conception. No psychological study was made of crime. It was assumed that the criminal had outraged society and that society must avenge itself. No one ever assumed that society itself might be responsible for part of the crime; that there might be conditions in society which made criminals. But one day a French author saw the truth and embodied his vision in the greatest piece of fiction which the world has ever seen—'Les Miserables.' It is the story of one Jean Valjean who was imprisoned because he stole some bread when he was hungry. After his imprisonment he was so inhospitably treated by society that he was again forced into crime. His age had for a proverb, 'Once a criminal always a criminal.'

Our own generation is making a scientific study of criminal conditions. This is the only way that the proverb can be intelligently dealt with. Out of this study we have learned that society is the criminal's debtor; that it owes him reformation more than revenge; that the appointed machinery appointed to deal with him should be more corrective than penal. We have embodied this idea with success in our juvenile courts, in our probationary and parole systems, and in the indeterminate sentence. The plan is no longer an uncertain experiment with us.

KAPPA TEAM WINS FROM RICHMOND

Local Independents Have Little Difficulty Running up Twenty to Nothing Score.

USE STRAIGHT FOOTBALL

The Kappa Independent football team had little difficulty defeating the Richmond team yesterday afternoon 20 to 0. The locals used straight football against the visitors and the attack could not be checked. Richmond had an open formation that was hard to solve but the team showed a lack of practice and the Kappas had little difficulty in running up twenty points.

The scores were made in the first and last quarters. The first quarter ended six to nothing and then in the fourth Rushville added fourteen more points. Forward passes for Rushville did not gain much ground and the old style line plunging game was resorted to with good effect. The Rushville team used several new men in the game and many substitutions were made. An effort is being made to bring the fast Shelbyville team here for a game next Sunday.

FRANK RESUMES FIGHT IN COURT

Young Atlanta Superintendent, Convicted of Murder, Again Before Supreme Court in Augusta

EVIDENCE CIRCUMSTANTIAL

W. J. Burns Claims to Have New Evidence in Behalf of Convicted Man—May go Higher

(By United Press.)

Augusta, Ga., Oct. 26.—The fight for life of Leo M. Frank, young Atlanta factory superintendent under sentence of death for alleged murder of 14-year-old Mary Phagan, an employee, on April 26, 1913, was again before the Georgia supreme court today.

Two motions of Frank, whose conviction was based almost entirely on circumstantial evidence and the confession of alleged accomplices, and has attracted nationwide interest, have been before the court. Arguments were begun today upon the motion, to set aside the conviction and death penalty because Frank was absent from the court room at Atlanta when the jury brought in the verdict. Frank's attorneys claim this was a violation of his constitutional rights and, if the motion to set aside the verdict is denied by this court, will be the basis of appeal to the U. S. Supreme court.

Frank's other motion, which was denied October 14 was a request for a new trial based upon alleged discovery of new evidence since his conviction. This motion was based chiefly upon the sensational move early this month of William M. Smith, former attorney for "Jim"

Conley, an alleged negro accomplice of Frank's. Smith declared he was convinced that his former client, Conley, was the murderer of Mary Phagan and that Frank is innocent.

New evidence alleged to have been discovered by Detective William J. Burns of New York during a tempestuous "sleuthing" excursion in Atlanta in Frank's behalf was also said to be a big card held by the defense. Burns got into a row with the Atlanta police because he was unlicensed to "practice" in Georgia.

Burns claims to have discovered evidence that the Phagan girl was killed after a struggle in the basement near the elevator shaft of the building of the National Pencil Factory building in Atlanta, where she, Frank and "Jim" Conley worked. Conley was a janitor and implicated Frank.

The Phagan girl's body was found in the early morning of April 27, 1913, in the basement of the factory. Her face was bruised and cinders ground into her cheeks and hair. Evidence of a criminal assault was found. Frank was arrested two days later.

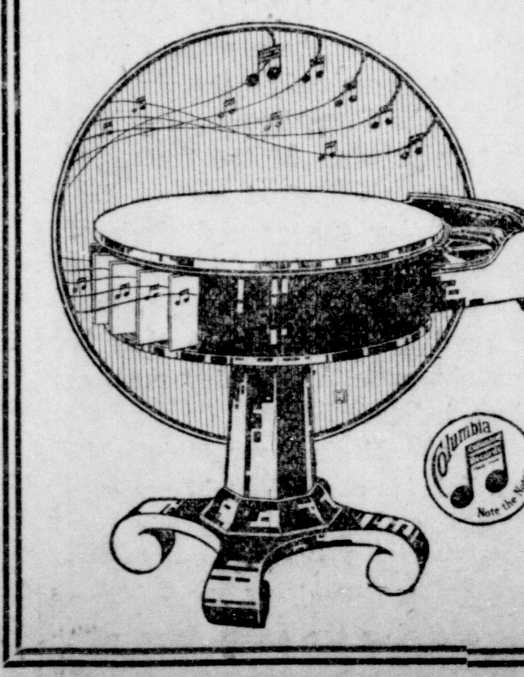

The negro, Conley, was the chief witness against Frank. Conley said Frank forced him to aid in disposing of the girl's body by hiding it in the second story.

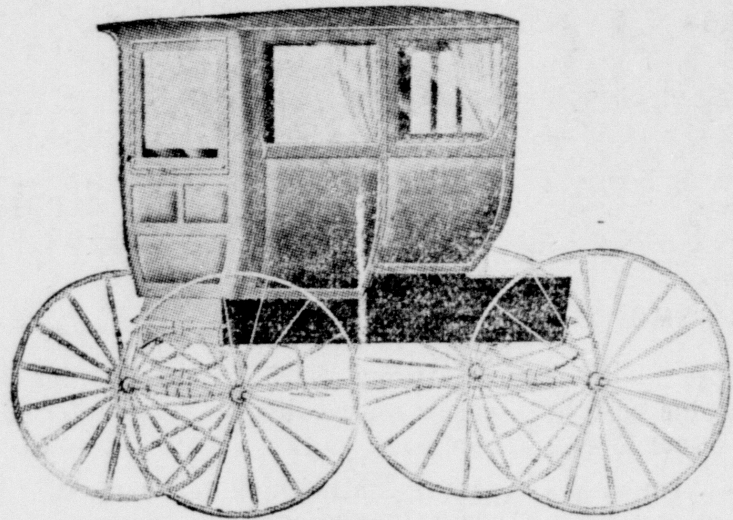

Solicitor Hugh M. Dorsey of Atlanta, who conducted Frank's prosecution, had charge of the opposition today before the supreme court of Frank's motion. Dorsey presented affidavits from Judge Roan, the trial justice; the sheriff and Frank's absence from the court room when the jury was brought in. Submission of the verdict was postponed from Saturday to Monday because of the high state of public feeling in the case.

Charles W. Fairbanks Addresses
Open Letter to Republicans, Forecasting Victory.

DEMOCRACY PUT TO THE TEST

Given Power to Put its Policies Into Effect and Fails as it Always Has Done.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 26.—Charles W. Fairbanks, former vice-president, today addressed the following open letter to Republicans in Indiana:

Prospects of the early return of the Republican party to power in the nation and state are full of encouragement. Vast numbers of Progressives upon every hand are returning to our ranks, and many Democrats are coming to our support. The people are looking to the Republican party to lead them back to prosperity as they did in 1894 and 1896. They distrust Democratic policies and have lost faith in the capacity of Democratic administration.

Democracy has been put to the supreme test. It has been given power to put its policies into effect and as usual has failed. It has halted business; shortened pay-rolls; diminished the sale of the merchant; restricted the output of coal mines; injured the farmer; stopped the movement in real estate; reduced the number of passenger trains and multiplied idle freight cars upon our railways; forced thousands of railway men into idleness; increased the cost of living; put signs "To Rent" and "For Sale" upon many homes; made mercantile failures more frequent; lowered our foreign trade balance; made taxes upon the people more burdensome; debts of the state and the nation have been unnecessarily swollen and increased taxes or bonds have become necessary to preserve the public credit. Extravagance and not rigid economy is the order of the day. Business men are unnecessarily harrassed; congress is kept in perpetual session; and the land is filled with uncertainty and doubt. A distinguished Democrat says that the hopper in congress has been kept full, but unfortunately, we may add, has kept the dinner pail empty. We must return to the policies of Republicanism, to the principles of McKinley protection, if you please, before we can open the factories upon full time and give work and wages to millions who are without either. We must bring the State and nation back to the practice of economy, uphold a sound banking and currency system, protect legitimate trade and commerce against monopoly; and extend our commerce into South America and the Orient, as well as to continental Europe, by building an adequate merchant marine. When duties are not longer required for revenue or protection to any home industry they should be used to secure advantageous entrance of our products into other countries and should not be handed to our competitors as a mere gratuity. This was sound doctrine when uttered by President McKinley in his last message at Buffalo, and it is equally so now. We must uphold the integrity of our judiciary and protect our representative system of government against all comers.

No one should fail to make his vote count for the utmost. It should not be carelessly thrown away. Either the Republicans or Democrats will win. If the former succeed, we shall start as we did in 1894 to lay the ground work of a return of prosperity; if our Democratic friends are victorious the disordered conditions which they have brought upon the country must continue indefinitely.

We should elect our state and local tickets, every Republican candidate for Congress, and our candidate for the United States Senate—Mr. Hugh Miller. If elected he will serve during the entire term of our next President. If all signs do not fail that President will be a Republican. It would be a misfortune if we should have a Republican President and an opposition Congress, thereby making it impossible to repeal the Underwood law and enact a sound protective measure. Let us begin the work of restoring prosperity by electing a senator and representatives who will stand for Republican policies and uphold the hands of a Republican President.

We know full well that our cause is just and that justice will triumph. The people are aroused from one end of the country to the other as they have not been in recent years, and if we shall continue to rally to our colors as we have been doing in Indiana and as our friends are doing in other States, we shall win a deserved and far-reaching victory. We invite to the support of our cause all of those who may have disagreed with us heretofore, no matter to what political party they have belonged. Prosperity and contentment are matters which most deeply concern us all alike.

Very sincerely yours,
CHARLES W. FAIRBANKS.

says, "Eugenics is a necessary factor in the future of the race. The average American girl is unfit for motherhood." This may be true, but if weak and ailing girls passing from girlhood to womanhood, would only rely, as thousands do, upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—that simple remedy made from roots and herbs,—to restore the system to a normal healthy condition it would cause many ills from which they suffer to disappear, so that motherhood might become the joy of their lives.

LEADERS OFFER THEIR COMMENT

Men of All Parties Pass Judgment on Extraordinary Session of Congress Just Closed

SOME PROMISES REDEEMED

Majority Leader Underwood Says it Has Kept its Pledges to the People Without Fail

(By United Press.)
Washington, Oct. 26.—With the record breaking session of congress at an end, the following expressions concerning its achievements were made especially for the United Press today by Representatives of the three parties:

By Speaker Champ Clark: "The Baltimore platform contains a multitude of promises. We have redeemed several of them, are in process of redeeming others and purpose to redeem them all. In my judgment a majority of the American people endorse the achievements of the Democratic administration for we have kept the faith. We stand confidently on our record in this congress."

By Majority Leader Underwood: "The Democratic party is entitled to the confidence of the people because it has kept its pledges to them. It has revised the tariff downward to a revenue basis, has shifted the burden, has reformed the banking and currency laws, has furnished the necessary supplemental legislation to make effective the provisions of the Sherman law to prohibit monopoly with the least possible disturbance to business and it has further demonstrated that it can efficiently administer the affairs of the national government."

By Republican Leader Mann: "There is lack of confidence throughout the country and why should it not develop? There has been no legislation since Mr. Wilson became president which tended to restore confidence. When the Democratic party is in power and has an opportunity to legislate or attack the business of the country through the administration there necessarily comes lack of confidence."

By Representative Ruxley, Progressive of Pennsylvania: "The great constructive measures that were passed by this congress were passed with the assistance of Progressives and so-called Progressive Republicans. In the future we will demonstrate that the Progressive party should have been entrusted with the passage of these great constructive pieces of legislation. One big blot on the achievement of the Democratic administration is the failure to pass the immigration bills."

By Senator Simmons, Democrat: "History will probably refer to the present congress as one which did things. The average reduction made by the tariff act was about 27 per cent. With the banking and currency act passed by this congress in full operation, our financial problem will have been thoroughly and permanently settled. It has dealt wisely and well with every problem with which it was confronted, notably the Mexican situation and the emergency created by the European war."

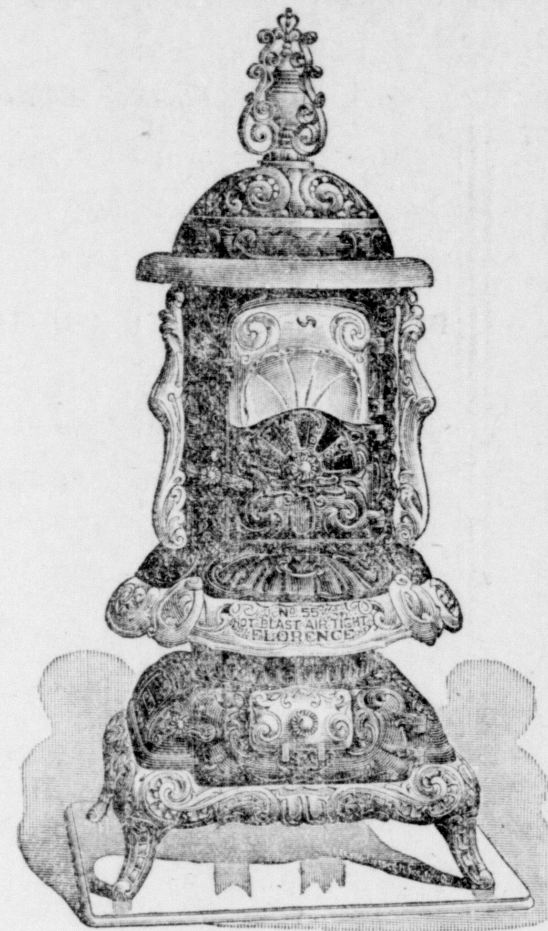

By Senator Poindexter, Progressive: "This congress is entitled to undisputed credit for several far-reaching and excellent measures. Among these the best is the bank reserve act. The anti-trust bill was shamefully weakened by omitting all criminal penalties against the individual violators. The war tax bill is a misnomer and unpardonable."

Hot Blast, Air-Tight "FLORENCE"

114 W. Second St. John B. Morris, Rushville Phone 1069

Beware of imitations and unscrupulous people who claim to have a stove like or just as good as the FLORENCE. Do not be deceived by such false claims and find it out when too late. Examine the FLORENCE carefully before you buy
NO SMOKE! NO SOOT! NO DIRT! NO CLINKERS! EVERYTHING IS CONSUMED

At the end of a season's use with soft coal, there will be no soot in the pipe or flue.

The only jointless leg bottom and base with full radiation and large ash pan that is on the market or has ever been made in the history of stove industry.

The jointless leg bottom and base make the stove airtight below the grate, which is the only true fire keeping principle. It will be as good a fire keeper twenty years hence as it is today. The only perfect floor heater that is or has ever been made.

All features are patented and no stove manufacturer, dealer or user can copy or use same for seventeen years from date of patent without incurring liability for an action for damages.

THE HOT BLAST AIR-TIGHT FLORENCE burns soft coal or slack and all the smoke and gases. No filling up of the stove, pipe or flue with soot. No dirt inside or outside the house. It will burn wood. It will produce one-half less ashes than any other stove on earth with any kind of fuel and leave no clinkers or half consumed fuel.

THINKS BELGIUM HER TERRITORY

Germany Thinks She owns Little Country, British Press Bureau Says, and Cities Proof.

BELGIAN UNIFORMS ARE WORN

(By United Press.)
London, Oct. 26.—Evidencing the fact that Germany already considers Belgium a part of her territory, the official press bureau, in continuing today its series of eye-witnesses' stories from the front, declares that German cavalry patrols are now wearing Belgian uniforms. The report as received declares that this action on the part of the enemy is "inexcusable."

The report today covers proceedings up to October 17 and is in many respects almost a duplication of matter already made public along this line. The fact that the troops were again advancing toward the north after their long service in the trenches fresh forces having relieved them there, has greatly cheered the men. All are declared to be very fit, notwithstanding the trying nature of the fighting and the severe weather that prevails.

A GOOD MEDICINE FOR POOR BLOOD

Mrs. Brunson of Bellefontaine, Ohio, Believes Vinol Is the Best Remedy in the World. Her Personal Experience.

Bellefontaine, Ohio.—"My blood was very poor and I was in a weak, nervous, run-down condition. I tried different medicines without benefit and one day my druggist told me about Vinol. In all I took four bottles and certainly got the results I was looking for. It built me up in every way, blood, strength and nerves, and I tell my friends it is the best medicine on earth. Many of them have used it and found it so."

—Mrs. EARL BRUNSON, Bellefontaine, Ohio.

As long as the blood is impoverished, thin and poor you will be weak, pale and tired all the time.

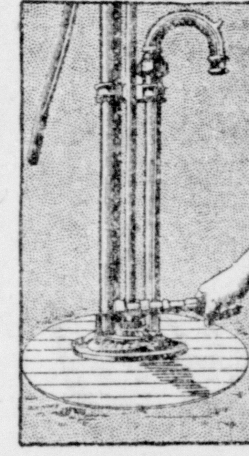

Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic, supplies iron to the blood, purifies and enriches it, while the cod liver elements contained in Vinol creates strength, and rebuilds wasting tissues.

Vinol is not a secret nostrum, simply the medicinal elements of the cods' livers, with the useless nauseating oil eliminated, and tonic iron added. Try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that your money will be returned if it does not make you stronger, feel younger and give you an added interest in life.

ABOUT PUMP REPAIRING

When placing a new leather on a RED JACKET SO-EASY-TO-FIX

the valves are easily removed through the base of the pump as the illustrations show. The cost is little more than the price of the repair. You can do it. The only tool needed is a monkey wrench.

Compare this with the time, trouble and expense of removing ordinary pumps from the well, to make the same repair. You see it's not the cost of the leather but the cost of putting it on.

This and other economical features of 'So Easy-To-Fix' pumps will be explained at your request.

WANTS KIDS TO LOOK LIKE OTHERS

Joe Clevenger Arraigned in Police Court For Failing to Send Children to School.

HEARS LAW; CHANGES MIND

Because he could not dress his children like other peoples' children Joe Clevenger, was arraigned before Mayor Bebout this morning on a charge of failure to send them to school. Clevenger told the officials that he did not want his children going to school with old clothes and wanted them to look like other "kids." At first he declared he would not send them but after the law was explained he cooled down and agreed to send them if suitable clothing could be obtained.

Attendance Officer James Miller stated that Clevenger refused to take the clothing he offered to buy for him although they were said to have been good serviceable clothes. Clevenger finally agreed to send the children to school and the case was dismissed when the agreement was reached.

the Innis-Pearce furniture factory at twelve-thirty o'clock Wednesday. Employees from that factory, the Park furniture factory, the Charles E. Francis company factory and the Reynolds Manufacturing company are urged to attend this meeting. Mr. Lynch and others will speak.

Another factory meeting will be held at the Rushville Furniture company's factory at twelve-fifty o'clock the same day for the employees of that factory. The speakers will be the same as at the Innis-Pearce factory.

More noonday meetings will be held by the Republican congressional candidate Friday. A speaking for employees of the Case Lumber company, Arbuckle's foundry and Maden's machine shop will be held at Case's factory at twelve-thirty. The speakers will proceed from there and hold a similar meeting at the Pinnell-Tompkins Lumber company's factory at 12:45 o'clock.

The committee in charge hopes to make the torch light procession here at night the biggest political meeting in Rushville in many campaigns. The committee will have ready, possibly by tomorrow, the territory to be covered by the parade. All the machines which make the tour of the county will participate in the parade at night, augmented by many others. Every person in the parade will be provided with a five-minute torch.

Locating a Broken Wire.

When a telegraph wire is broken or damaged, say, several hundred miles away, how does the operator, sitting in his office, know exactly where the accident occurred?

The explanation is simple. It requires, as every one knows, considerable force to send electricity through a wire. The longer the wire the greater, of course, must be the force required. This force is measured in units, called by electricians "ohms." Let us suppose that a wire between a New York office and a point 150 miles away has broken somewhere. The telegrapher knows that when the wire was intact there were required, say, 2,100 ohms to facilitate the current, or fourteen ohms to the mile. He now finds that he can send a current with only 700 ohms. Dividing 700 by 14, he finds that the break in the wire is fifty miles from his end.—New York Tribune.

Contrasts in Mexico.

Perhaps nowhere else in the world is there a country so full of contrasts as Mexico. Here you will see a Mexican halfbreed barefooted wearing a dollar pair of trousers, a fifty cent shirt and a ten dollar sombrero. There at a single glance and within the length of a single city block you may see an Indian cangador, a donkey cart, an oxcart, a carriage, a railroad train, a street car and a motorcar—almost every type of locomotion since Adam. You may tread the burning sands of a tropical desert with a wet of perpetual snow of towering mountains still upon your shoes. You may take a single railway journey of thirty-six hours in which the people you see at the railroad station will be dressed in four different weights of clothing. Everywhere you turn there is contrast, high lights and deep shadows.—William Joseph Showalter in National Geographic Magazine.
